FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

British Columbia Discovery Fund to Redeem $2.5 million of Shares

VANCOUVER, B.C. April 10, 2017

British Columbia Discovery Fund (VCC) Inc. (the "Fund"), a venture capital investment fund managed by Discovery Capital Management Corp. ("DCMC" or the "Manager"), is pleased to announce a $2.5 million redemption of its Class A Shares. The Fund has identified those shares eligible to be redeemed by designating them as DCC400 shares. The procedures for processing redemptions are outlined further below in this press release. This redemption has been funded primarily by the recent disposition of 200,000 shares of Avigilon Corporation by the Fund – the Fund no longer holds any shares of Avigilon.

Shareholders currently considering the redemption of their redeemable DCC400 shares as a result of this redemption offer are reminded that Rx Networks Inc., one of the Fund's private portfolio companies, is currently in the process of finalizing a sale transaction where it would be acquired at a price which would result in an increase to Pricing NAV per Share when the transaction closes. Definitive purchase agreements have been executed but they contain significant conditions to closing. There is no assurance that the proposed transaction will be completed. Other future developments with respect to portfolio investments of the Fund could result in future negative or positive adjustments to the Pricing NAV per Share.

Redemption Eligibility and Pricing

Those shareholders who:

- (a) had held their shares for the minimum required five-year hold period when they initially requested redemption; and
- (b) are currently on the redemption "waiting list" of the Fund, will have the opportunity to have their redemption requests fulfilled based on their position on the list. Redemptions will be available to those persons on the waiting list in the order in which their names were placed on the list until the current $2.5 million redemption amount is exhausted. However, those persons must also make new redemption request orders using only DCC400 coded shares, as outlined below.

The Fund will continue to maintain its waiting list of unfilled redemption requests.

Starting April 10th, the Fund will contact all brokerage firms representing shareholders whose eligible redemption requests are already on the waiting list to advise them as to their eligibility to submit a new redemption order to be processed in this current $2.5 million redemption. Procedures for submitting orders are outlined below and will be further detailed in the "Dealer Advisement" notices sent to the relevant brokerage firms.

The redemption price to be paid will be the weekly Pricing NAV per Share calculated by the Fund for the week in respect of which the new redemption orders are received by the Fund.

Procedures

1. DCC100 and DCC101 shares that are eligible for redemption will be converted into DCC400 shares. "Re-org" files will be sent to all relevant brokerage firms to show this conversion – this process may take several days before being reflected on firm systems. Because of different Fund share purchases at different times, a shareholder may hold DCC100, DCC101 and DCC400 shares. Only DCC400 shares may be redeemed at this time. Sell orders should not be placed for any DCC100 and DCC101 shares, as they will be rejected.
2. New redemption orders for DCC400 shares are requested to be placed through the brokerage accounts holding the DCC400 shares.
3. In the case of shareholders holding shares in a direct investing or discount brokerage account, the new redemption order must be placed through their discount brokers. Manual requests will not be accepted by the Fund.
